ABOUT LADAKH

Ladakh is India at its most enchantingly human and scenically stunning, a rugged high-altitude desert softened with Tibetan temples, the region of Ladakh envelops a mystical "Moonland" of barren alpine desert, where Tibetan Buddhist monasteries hide among some of the world's most impressive mountains

Ladakh History

Every corner of Ladakh has a scoop of Tibet and Buddhism in it. It was the dawn of the 7th and 8th century when the history of Ladakh began sprouting in full bloom. Dards were the civilization which had migrated along the Indus River and has chosen Tibet as their home. 3rd and 4th centuries saw the spreading of roots of Buddhism in numerous Asian countries.

The era of great King Ashoka(273-232 BC) saw the colonization, settlement, and bringing of Buddhism to Ladakh. Legendary third Buddhist council organized by King Ashoka from 247 to 241 B.C, led to the shifting of Buddhist Missionaries to the locations of Kashmir, Yarkand and beyond.

Culture of Ladakh

Land of geographical contrasts, Ladakh, has a unique culture inspired by the locals. Much influenced by Tibet, Ladakhi culture has embedded spiritual intricacies of Buddhism. Dards were the initial inhabitants of Ladakh, an Indo-Aryan race. These rose-cheeked people would welcome you with a sweet smile and sunken silent eyes.

Ladakhi women enjoy a similar status of freedom and privilege to work and interact with other people, including men. People are very bounty-full and celebrate great festivals like Hemis, Losar, and Sindhu Darshan festival.

Climate in Ladakh

Ladakh is a high altitude semi-desert region. It falls under the territory of rain shadow created by the Himalayas and thus receives very meager rain. The average rainfall of the area is recorded only 15 cm. Winters dip the temperatures up to -30-degree centigrade.

However, a slight shift in the climate of Ladakh has been recorded with the occurrence of flood disaster which hit Ladakh in August 2010. It led to a huge loss of financial as well as physical losses to the people. The reason behind such a sudden change in climate is not known clearly.

BEST FESTIVAL IN LADAKH

Hemis Monastery

Hemis Monastery is a Himalayan Buddhist monastery of the Drukpa Lineage, in Hemis, Ladakh, India. Situated 45 km from Leh, the monastery was re-established in 1672 by the Ladakhi king Sengge Namgyal. The annual Hemis festival honouring Padmasambhava is held in early June. The ancient Hemis monastery is said to have existed before the 11th century. Naropa, the teacher of the translator Marpa and the pupil of the yogi Tilopa, are regarded as the founding fathers of the Kagyu-lineage of Buddhism.

Lamayuru or Yuru Monastery

Lamayuru or Yuru Monastery is a Tibetan Buddhist monastery in Lamayouro, Leh district, Ladakh, India. It is situated on the Srinagar-Leh highway 15 kilometres east of the Fotu La at a height of 3,510 metres. Also known as Yung-Drung, this monastery is home to more than 150 monks and houses a rich collection of artifacts, wall paintings, thangas, statues, carpets and an impressive 11-headed, 1000-eyed image of Chenzing.

Matho Nagrang

A festival of oracles and their blessings. It is celebrated in Matho Monastery and thus comes the name, Matho Nagrang. Celebration of this 2-day festival has chosen the 15th day of the 1st month of Tibetan calendar. Monks of the Monasteries dress as Ladakhi God and Goddesses and perform various religious acts. Their shiny silken robes and colorful masks give them a distinguished and mysterious personality. Two oracles are believed to have returned who go for a month-long secluded meditation.

Yuru Kabgyat

Come July and the charismatic Lamayuru Monastery gets painted with the gaiety and celebrations of Yuru Kabgyat. A two-day festival which takes initiative to imitate the teachings of Tibetan Buddhism as they sing and dance traditionally. It will be a feast for your eyes as you watch the live performances of the monks dressed in colorful attires soaked in tradition and customs. A statue goes for demolition as it indirectly highlights the salvation of the inner demons and triumph of good over evil.

Alchi Monastery

Alchi Monastery is a group of ancient Buddhist shrines that together form one of the most important religious centres in Ladakh. This gompa attributes its establishment to the legendary translator Rinchen Zangpo, who built it in AD 1000 by bringing 32 wood carvers and sculptors from Kashmir. After the Gelug sect permanently shifted its activities to the Likir Monastery, it became the administrative shrine of the Alchi Gompa.

Thiksey Monastery

Thiksey Monastery is a popular Buddhist Monastery which is situated very close to Leh. It is a part of Gelugpa order in Buddhism and houses Thangkas, stupas, swords, wall paintings, statues and a pillar. This pillar is carved with the preaching and ideas of Buddha and is housed in the 12-storey building of the monastery. The monastery buildings are structured in hierarchical order. The monastery is referred to as 'Mini Potala' of India as it resembles Potala Palace in Lhasa, Tibet.

Ladakh Festival

It is a festival which marks the synonymous celebration of harvesting and prosperity among the Ladakhi community. It is celebrated in September and stretches up to 15 days. People from all parts of the Ladakh gather in the Leh town. The festival is all dotted with traditional music performances, dance programs and more. It is specially marked for celebrating a good harvest of crops. You would also see the marching of the religious procession from one Monastery to another in traditional outfits.

Hemis Festival

Hemis Tsechu, Leh
Hemis Tsechu, a two-day festival celebrated annually, is one of the biggest and most famous held in the town of Leh. The festival marks the anniversary of the birth of Guru Padmasambhava, the patron saint of Tibetan Buddhism who brought Buddhism from India to Tibet. During the festival, the monks, dressed in elaborately decorated and colourful brocades with striking masks, perform dance-dramas called chhams to the accompaniment of the sound of drums, cymbals and other traditional musical instruments. The performances highlight the various miraculous deeds of Padmasambhava,

PLACES TO VISIT IN LADAKH

PANGONG TSO

Pangong Tso is a splendid lake known to play the tricky play of blues and greens in its water. You will be mesmerized to see the multiple hues of lake water dissolving with each other and you will be awestruck every time you watch the changing colors of water. It becomes a bewitching landscape with a backdrop of snow brushed mountains and rugged terrains with rich stains of brown. Situated at a remarkable height of 14,270 ft, Pangong Tso is an aquatic miracle infused with deepest hues of turquoise. All because of the stark beauty of the landscape, it has been chosen to be included in some of the classic scenes of Bollywood movies including 3 Idiots. Camping near Pangong is a mind-blowing idea to relax and rejuvenate your mind and body. The steaming bowl of Maggi tastes better and your sip of hot coffee provides loads of refreshment on the bank of Pangong Tso. The exhilarating joy of camping near the lucid lake is unmatched. Spending a night gazing at the clearest view of the dazzling stars enriches you with a heavenly feeling. Waking up to the raw chirping of the birds and tangerine sunshine is the most eternal feeling.

TSO MORIRI

Also famed as Mountain lake, it is one of the most scenic lakes of Ladakh region. The lake reveals the story of serenity and poise with its tranquil waters. Located in the lush greens of Changthang Wildlife Sanctuary, the lake is home to some of the rare breed of migratory birds. It is 28 km long and 100 feet deep situated at a whopping height of 4595 meters above the sea level. The lake crafts a captivating vista with the muse of stunning mountains sleeping calmly on the pristine waters of Tso Moriri. It is one of the offbeat destinations of Ladakh which can be visited during hot summer months. The lake becomes a freezing beauty in winter because of the sharp dip in temperature. It must not be missed by the dreamy birders. You can camp around the Tso Moriri lake and witness special surprises. It is a part of wetland reserve called Ramsar site and also referred to as Tso Moriri Wetland Conservation Reserve.

NUBRA

Located to the North of Leh, Nubra Valley is a celestial slice of Ladakh and you can go trailblazing on the list of places to be explored over here. A myriad of lively textures and colors are sprinkled with a graceful symmetry across the valley. The holy confluence of Nubra and Shayok river poses a very artistic aquatic landscape. Immerse yourself in the natural beauty around to gain repose. Nubra Valley is famed as "Orchard of Ladakh" because of the presence of blooming flowers and green fields. The valley has lush green fields which craft a panoramic vista. It has a breathtaking landscape like that of the moon and thus called "Moonland". You can go for a culture walk along the valley dotted with traditional villages. Nature's best controversy and diversity can be viewed in Nubra Valley. The verdant valley becomes craggy and rugged where water is scarce. You will be awe-inspired to see craggy mountains changing to the topography of agile sand-dunes. Get allured by the classic poise of sand-dunes and double-humped Bactrian camels sitting beside it. The valley has historical tales to be explored in the form of some ruined palaces, Diskit Monastery, an ancient Masterpiece, and few remnants of old forts.

SHAM VALLEY

It is also called by the name of "Apricot Valley" for the valley is bordered with plenty of apricot flowers bloomings. It is the most preferable trekking destinations. The term "Baby trek" has been coined for it as it is feasible for families and beginners. Small mountain passes, shady willows, and barley fields enrich the beauty and thrill of the trek. As you cruise through the remote and intriguing villages of the valley, you will taste the authentic culture of hills. Get damp with the hospitality in cuisine, culture, rituals, festivals, and traditions of Ladakhi villages. You can opt for homely homestays to experience the culture with keen proximity. Most of the Indo-Tibetan crowd of the village are richly infused with hospitality and go beyond average for lending you with sheer satisfaction. The Sham valley trek encompasses splendid visits to the Leh Bazaar, Ang village, lined artistically with apricot Orchard, Hemis Shukpachan, and Tingmosgam. Feel the thrill at Magnetic hill and watch the vehicles moving uphill without any external force. Get submerged in spirituality at Likir, Alchi, Basgo and Phyang Monastery and reveal the real color of your soul. Gurudwara Pathar Sahib is another spot not to be missed.

TURTUK VILLAGE

Turtuk Village in Ladakh is one of the best places in Ladakh region and is an entirely new global. It is a satisfaction for the avid visitors and paradise for the bikers. Blessed with uniquely impressive geography, deserts, rocky roads and crabby mountains, this place gets you out of the social net trap and could convey you closer to nature. The Turtuk Village in Leh- Ladakh region is so lovely that it should be on all traveller's listing. The hypnotising splendour of Turtuk Village, the unique blend of Muslim village, in a Buddhist realm, within a Hindu-majority and the myriad sun shades of nature is something you must enjoy via once for your lifetime. The Land of Turtuk brims over with adventure in addition to serenity.

HANLE

Hanle, in Ladakh, is possibly one of the world's most enchanting, serene and breath-taking places. It is home to a lovely monastery, offering some great aerial views of the entire village, with a population of over 1,000. Hanle also houses the Indian Astronomical Observatory — the highest observatory in the world — at a staggering height of 4,500 metres. The Hanle observatory is operated by the Indian Institute of Astrophysics, Bengaluru, and is currently the second-highest optical observatory globally, with an installed telescope of about 2.01 metres (6.5 feet) diameter. On the way to Hanle from Leh, it seems like you're on a different planet altogether. Its horrifying beauty — so eerily calm — imparts the feeling of being lost in an alien land. There is some wildlife to spot along the way: mostly wild asses, golden ducks, rabbits, jackals. You can also see a few nomads along the roadside, in their makeshift tents and surrounded by their cattle and dogs.

DHA HANU, LEH LADAKH OVERVIEW

The villages of Dha (also called as Dah), and Hanu are amongst the only few villages that are home to the Drozpa tribe of Leh. The tribe, which is different from the Ladakhi tribe found in the rest of the area are quite hospitable people. The Drozpa are culturally, racially and linguistically different from the rest and are said to be the only living descendants of the original Aryan (Indo European) race. Dah Hanu villages are a must visit for those who are interested in cultural diversity. The Drozpa tribes are known for their distinct ornaments and head gears. The villages have been visited by countless photographers who absolutely enjoy clicking photographs of the people of this tribe.

BEST TIME TO VISIT LADAKH

April - Mid May

Explore Ladakh in the summer months when the temperature reaches 16 degrees centigrade in daytime and 3-degree centigrade at night. It is a great time for camping along the lakesides. Some mountain passes including Khardung la and Chang la are not accessible as they are yet not freed from snow.

August - Mid September

The peak of the monsoon season gives you an exciting time for river rafting and camping along the lake and riversides. Being a rain shadow area, it is less drenched and thus the trip can be enjoyed. But, practice enough precaution for there are chances of landslides which are dangerous.

Mid October - Mid November

Best time for solo travellers and solitude seekers as being an off-season Ladakh sees very less of the tourist crowd. The temperature reaches sub-zero. Roads and mountain passes become risky and slippery with freezing ice.

Mid May to July

Explore the cold desert during this time when most of the snow has melted. Srinagar Leh highway and Manali Leh highway opens up, so you can plan beautifully for road trips. Also, you can witness the famous Hemis Festival and Phyang Tsedup festivals celebrated during these months.

Mid-September - mid October

Enjoy the festive fervor of Ladakh festival as you come to Ladakh and enjoy the chilly wind as winter starts knocking at the doors. Take the last chance to enjoy the serenity of water bodies as they will freeze very soon into water sheets.

Mid-November - March

The coldest time of the year brings very exciting tourist activity- Frozen river/Chadar trek, which is world-renowned. Most of the mountain passes and roads are blocked because of heavy snowfall. Walking on lakes is sheer bliss for tourists.

DAY 06 DHARAMSALA TO JAMMU BY SURFACE AND TRANSFER TO JAMMU AIRPORT FOR SRINAGAR

Early morning drive to Jammu 5 hrs lunch at local restaurant and after transfer to Jammu airport for fly to Srinagar. Upon arrival in Srinagar, you will meet your Go2Ladakh representative and you will be taken to the House Boat. In the afternoon, you will be visiting the Mughal gardens with terraced lawns, cascading fountains, paint-box-bright flowerbeds with the panorama of the Dal Lake in front of them. The three r. Dinner and overnight stay at the House Boat. (B,L,D)

DAY 07 SRINAGAR - GULMARG, - SRINAGAR

We will drive to Gulmarg - a legendary beauty with a prime location and proximity to Srinagar, naturally making it one of the premier hill resorts in the country. Originally called 'Gaurimarg' by shepherds, its present name was given in the 16th century by Sultan Yusuf Shah, who was inspired by the sight of its grassy slopes emblazoned with wild flowers. Gulmarg was a favourite spot of Emperor Jahangir, who once collected 21 different varieties of flowers from here. Today, Gulmarg is not merely a mountain resort of exceptional beauty - it also has the highest green golf course in the world, at an altitude of 2,650 m, and is the country's premier ski resort. Dinner and overnight stay at the hotel. (B,L,D)

DAY 08: SRINAGAR - KARGIL (APPROXIMATELY 210 KM, 6-7 HRS)

After breakfast, drive to Kargil via Sonamarg (2740 m). It is the last major town before Ladakh. Sonamarg is an excellent base for trekking. Its name means "Meadows of Gold". We drive over Zoji La Pass (3529 m). Zoji La pass is the watershed between Kashmir and Ladakh - on one side you have the green, lush scenery of Kashmir while on the other side everything is barren and dry. Drass is the first main village after the pass. From Drass, it is another 56 km to Kargil. Upon arrival, check-in at the hotel, have dinner and spend the night in the hotel. (B,L,D)

DAY 09 : KARGIL - LEH VIA LAMAYURU (229 KM, 6-7 HRS)

After breakfast, we drive to Leh. On the way, you can visit 8 m-high Maitreya statue, an image of future Buddha, cut into the rock face and dating back about 700 AD. This village called Mulbek is the first Buddhist village after Kargil. Drive via Futo La pass (4147 m), the route's highest pass, then Namika La Pass (3760 m), then visit the Lamayuru monastery. It belongs to Drikung Kagyu (Red Hat). The monastery is more than a 1000 years old and is also called the moon land. On the way to Leh, you can also see the confluence of the Indus and the Zaskar rivers just after Nimmu village. Overnight stay at the hotel. (B,L,D)

DAY 10: LEH - KHARDUNG LA - HUNDER (4350 M) - NUBRA VALLEY (3332 M) (125 KM, 5-HOUR DRIVE)

The road journey from Leh to Nubra Valley passes over the Khardung La pass (the highest motorable road in the world) at 5602 m/18,390 ft., around 39 km from Leh. From the pass, one can see all the way south over the Indus valley to the seemingly endless peaks and ridges of the Zaskar range, and north to the giants of the Saser Massif.

Before proceeding to your camp at Hunder, stop to visit the Diskit monastery perched on a rock overhanging next to a stream, which provides the source of energy used by mills in the area. The monastery is rich, full of thangkas, magnificent giant statues, effigies of the Buddha and old mural paintings in which can be noted a multitude of influences. It was founded by Lama Sherab Zangpo of Stod around 1420 A.D. Diskit is the main village or headquarters of the Nubra Valley, which has a small market consisting of a row of shops. Overnight stay at a deluxe camp. (B,L,D)

DAY 11: NUBRA VALLEY - LEH (125 KM, 5 HR DRIVE)

In the morning after breakfast, visit the monastery. Then drive back to Leh, once again driving via the Khardung La pass.

Samstanling Gompa: Samstanling Monastery was founded by Lama Tsumtse Nima and the monastic community was introduced as Rizong Gompa. About 50-60 monks are residing at this 132 years old monastery. The Gompa has some strict rules and regulations. Overnight stay at a hotel. (B,L,D)

DAY 12: LEH - PANGONG TSO LAKE (150 KM)

Early departure for Pangong Tso Lake (approximately 145 km, located on the Indo-China Border), via Chang La pass (altitude: 17,370 ft.). After an entire day of sightseeing around the lake, check-in at the fixed tent camp near the lake at Spangmik or drive back for 30 km to Tangtse and check into a hotel/guest house for an overnight stay. (B,L,D)

DAY 13: PANGONG-HEMISTHIKSEY-LEH (165 KM)

After breakfast, leave Pangong/Tangtse and get back on the Leh route across Chang La. Upon reaching Karu, drive across the Indus and visit the famous Hemis Monastery, the biggest monastery in Ladakh. Later, drive on to Leh, en route visiting the picturesque Hemis and Thiksey monasteries. Overnight stay at a hotel. (B,L,D)

DAY 14: DROP TO LEH AIRPORT

Early morning transfer to the airport for taking the flight back home. The tour ends here. (B)
